Art Unit: 2627

1) The amendment filed 10/22/2007 is acknowledged.

2) The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3) Claims 1-3 and 10-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over LEE (Korea, P1991-0008507).

LEE discloses a method of eliminating home-in noise of an optical disc drive without a home limit switch and using a variable step counter, as claimed in claim 1, comprising the step of driving a servomechanism at the position of the optical pickup and then reading a sub-code value of the optical disc to confirm a current position of the optical pickup (abstract), calculating a number of tracks from the current position of the optical pickup to a home position and converting the number of tracks into a step counter value to obtain a step counter value of the home position (abstract), and moving the optical pickup to the home position through an access operation, wherein the step counter value of the home position is an integer varying depending on the position of the optical pickup when power is applied (abstract), except to specifically show the step of resetting the variable step counter, to zero regardless of a position of the optical pickup, when power is applied to the optical disc drive. However, the step of resetting the variable step counter to zero regardless of a position of the optical pickup is old and widely used in the optical recording art, evidence disclosed in the applicant's specification, page 3, paragraphs [0012] to [0015]. Therefore, one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made would have been motivated to use the reset step in LEE's optical disc device for resetting the variable step counter to zero when power is applied to optical pick-up as claimed.

As to claim 2, the home position at 00:02:00 is inherent in every optical disc recording medium.

As to claim 3, it would have been obvious to keep the optical pick-up at current position in LEE's optical disc driver when power is applied to optical disc drive since by moving optical pick-up without loading, optical disc will create noise during moving process.

Claim 10 is rejected with the same reasons set forth in claim 1 above.

As to claims 11-14, the step of converting number of tracks into step counter value, reading sub-code for confirming the current position of the optical pick-up and the counter value of home position is an integer varying are old and widely used optical recording art.

4) Claims 4-9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5) Applicant's arguments filed 10/22/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The fact is that applicant admits the feature of " resetting the variable step counter to zero regardless of a position of the optical pickup is old and widely used in the optical recording art, evidence disclosed in the applicant's specification, page 3, paragraphs [0012] to [0015] " as indicated in last Office action, this feature is old and widely used in the optical recording art and clearly obvious to someone within the level of skill in the art when applies to LEE's invention. For that reasons, claims 1-3 and 10-14 are found still rejectable as shown above.

6) THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

7) This application contains claims 14-17 drawn to an invention non-elected without traverse in the reply filed on 3/26/2007. A complete reply to the final rejection must include cancellation of non-elected claims or other appropriate action (37 CFR 1.144) See MPEP § 821.01.

8) The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Applicant is reminded that in amending in response to a rejection of claims (if the rejection involves with any applicable arts), the patentable novelty must be clearly shown in view of the state of the art disclosed by the references cited and the objection made. Applicant must also show how the amendments avoid such references and objections. See 37 CFR § 1.111(c).

Form PTO-892 is attached herein.
